

Women's Business Centers

Women business owners are critically important to the American economy, employing millions of people and contributing trillions of dollars to the economy. The Women's Business Center program, established by Congress in 1988, is partially funded by the SBA and is administered by the SBA's Office of Women's Business Ownership. The WBCs specialize in entrepreneurial training that addresses the needs of business owners in all stages of development, from start-ups to seasoned businesses, positioning them for success through training, education, consulting and resources.

There are two SBA-sponsored Women's Business Centers in New Jersey:
