Do Not Wait For Insurance Settlement; SBA Urges Return of Applications – Deadline to Apply June 22

ATLANTA – The U.S. Small Business Administration is reminding victims in eligible Tennessee counties they should not wait to settle with their insurance companies before applying for disaster loan assistance. The SBA encourages victims of the April 10 tornadoes to return their completed applications, even if they have not settled with their insurance company. Waiting to file an SBA application could cause unnecessary delays in receiving disaster assistance. The deadline to file an SBA loan application for physical damages is June 22.

Homeowners, renters, non-profit organizations and businesses of all sizes in the following counties are eligible to apply for physical disaster assistance: Bedford, Cannon, Coffee, Davidson, Marshall, Rutherford, Williamson and Wilson counties in the State of Tennessee.

“Returning a completed SBA disaster loan application is an important step in the disaster recovery process,” said Frank Skaggs, Director of SBA Field Operations Center East. “SBA does not need your insurance settlement information in order to start the application process.”

Disaster victims with insurance should not wait for a settlement before applying to the SBA. If a victim does not know how much of their loss will be covered by insurance or other sources, the SBA will consider making a loan for the total loss up to its loan limits, provided the borrower agrees to use insurance proceeds to reduce or repay their SBA loan.

SBA’s customer service representatives are on hand at the Disaster Loan Outreach Center to issue loan applications, answer questions about the SBA’s disaster loan program, explain the application process and help individuals complete their applications. The Center is located in the following community:
