

BYAN SYSTEMS, INC.

Automatic Gate and Access Control Products

John Boreczky, president of Byan Systems, Inc., has something outstanding to be proud of. Byan Systems was selected by the Secret Service in 1994 to install the automatic gates around the White House. Later, when more were needed, Byan systems was chosen to be the gate operator supplier, no substitutes allowed. Boreczky is also trading with South America, Puerto Rico, Mexico and Canada.

Prior to starting the business, friends in Spain sat down with him and together they designed the gate operator. Boreczky started business on October 1, 1990 with one unit. John talked with Jay Hammond of the Lusk State Bank, the only institution willing to take a chance on him, and was able to get help from Growbiz and HUBzone Programs and has had several SBA loans over the years.

Since his product had not been sold in the US before, he had zero customers. John, a good marketer, set out to prove the quality of his gate operator. Over time he developed good respect in his business dealings and proved himself to dealers and distributors. He provides a four-year guarantee on his operators and is fully certified by UL325 which allows auditors to come in unannounced once per quarter to check out his business. John is then required to send his system and components to them, at his own expense, for strenuous testing. This certification is a great selling point for his operator.

Today John has been in business for 15 years and has 14 employees. He provides health, dental and vision insurance at no expense to his staff after six months of employment. John has had two years of college, attended Nuclear Power School while in the Navy and taught Advanced Hydraulics for three years during his 14 years in the Navy Submarine Division. He is also very proud of the fact that Richard Petty, who has a 32 year racing career on the NASCAR Winston Cup circuit, has agreed to be a spokesman for Byan Systems during the next two years. Boreczky's business is the official gate operator supplier for Petty Enterprises.

John is a very conscience person and tries to give back to his community by being on the Work Force Development Board, Economic Board for Lusk; is a sponsor for Lusk Rodeo, Lusk to Fort Fetterman Pony Express, and 4H shooting sports; and has donated circus tickets to kindergarten classes, built a small room in his new building for a UPS drop off point for his business and the community's use and also offers his conference room for public use. He received the Leading Edge Award in 2004, an appreciation award from Senator Enzi for the operators for White House gates, and Secret Service Certificate of Appreciation for the operators for White House gates.
